Prologue

In the land fairies treasure there is a legend of Mysteka the all gifted wicked fairy. There is a rumour that she is still alive in Himey Tower though some say she is dead. Though no one knows for sure but if she is she will be hatching a plan for all that fairies hold dear to be in her clutches.

Chapter One

In the Farieus Dusteus School for Fledgling Fairies there were six fairies under the tutelage of Simitos. Simitos was the hijarao (the award for best teacher.) Simitos taught them not just how to fly but how to fly well. He knew that each of his six fairies would have a special gift air, water, earth, fire or compulsion. He already knew each of his student's powers but they had to discover it for themselves. Fiery Sinta would specialise in fire, graceful Luca would fly with the air. Watery Lizar would skim the seas, Unmovable Maka would shatter the earth, convincing Mea would compel people go do her bidding. Simitos didn't know what Lucia would be gifted in but he hoped she wouldn't be an all talented fairy and even worse follow in the footsteps of the wicked Mysteka. An all talented fairy was a fairy that specialised in everything and could use all the mystical powers. Such a fairy was exceedingly rare (so rare there was only one other) and could be a great advocate for good or evil.

The way to find out what power fairies specialised in was to put them near a force connected to each element and if they felt an affinity to it, it would be the element they could wield. Sinta was trying to find out what element he could wield. He didn't feel a thing with air, earth and compulsion but he tried water and he recoiled from it. He remembered that fire was the opposite of water and approached the brazier of fire he felt energy pulsing through his veins. He knew that that fire was his element. It was the same for Luca, Lizar, Maka and Mea. Lucia was a different matter altogether she felt energy from all the elements she was astonished at what to do. She asked Simitos and he explained "You are an all gifted fairy you can control all the elements better than all the fairies."

Chapter 2

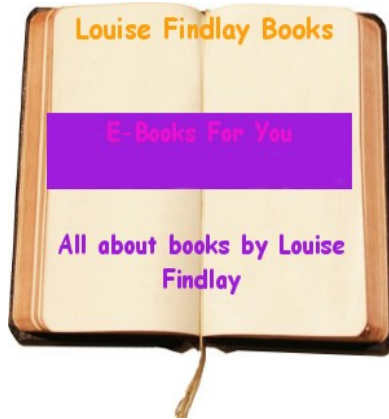

At midnight Lucia used her powers to compel her fellow fairies to follow her to Himey Tower. They crept up the spiral staircase into the next room which was in total darkness. Lucia used her fire power to get some light into the room.

Mysteka in a beautiful black gown swept elegantly into the room. “Ah Mysteka the rumours are true you are still alive, that's good because I have come to join you” said Lucia.

Lucia demonstrated her all gifted powers and Mysteka was very impressed at her fellow all gifted fairy. She said “If you wish to join me in my wickedness then send away your companions.” Lucia compelled them to go back to the Farieus Dusteus School. Then Mysteka accepted her and they began to plot about the fairies downfall.
