

JOLLY
JINGLES

Title: Jolly Jingles

Author: Anonymous

Language: English

Subject: Fiction, Literature, Children's literature

Publisher: World Public Library Association

(c) worldLibrary.nettm

World Public Library

The World Public Library, www.WorldLibrary.net is an effort to preserve and disseminate classic works of literature, serials, bibliographies, dictionaries, encyclopedias, and other reference works in a number of languages and countries around the world. Our mission is to serve the public, aid students and educators by providing public access to the world's most complete collection of electronic books on-line as well as offer a variety of services and resources that support and strengthen the instructional programs of education, elementary through post baccalaureate studies.

This file was produced as part of the "eBook Campaign" to promote literacy, accessibility, and enhanced reading. Authors, publishers, libraries and technologists unite to expand reading with eBooks.

Support online literacy by becoming a member of the World Public Library, <http://www.WorldLibrary.net/Join.htm>.

(c) worldLibrary.nettm

www.worldlibrary.net

This eBook has certain copyright implications you should read.

This book is copyrighted by the World Public Library. With permission copies may be distributed so long as such copies (1) are for your or others personal use only, and (2) are not distributed or used commercially. Prohibited distribution includes any service that offers this file for download or commercial distribution in any form, (See complete disclaimer <http://WorldLibrary.net/Copyrights.html>).

World Public Library Association
P.O. Box 22687
Honolulu, Hawaii 96823
info@WorldLibrary.net

(c) worldLibrary.nettm

Jolly Jingles

Verses for Little Tots

By UNCLE MILTON

Published and Copyrighted 1907 by

THE ULLMAN MFG. CO.
NEW YORK

COME back with that egg,
said Bunny,
"I want to cook it for tea."
Said Molly, "Tis very funny,"
"But I thought it was laid for me!"

So Molly, shaking with laughter,
Ran fast as she could run;
While Bunny came toddling after,
And thought it lots of fun.

If you see his long ears,
You think he's a donkey;
When he stands on his legs,
He looks like a monkey.

When he scampers so funny,
He looks like a horse;
Though he's only my Bunny,
I love him, of course.

WHEN the sun is high
On the Fourth of July,
And you linger by the ocean,

It is splendid sport
To build a fort,
To show your true devotion.

Bring your army out,
Stand them roundabout,
For the enemy defies you;
Shoot your brazen gun,
And the battle's won
With an ease that will surprise you.

My doggie must be very tired
From running all day long,
To let him walk the whole way home

I know is very wrong.

A doggie is a faithful friend,
That cannot be denied;
I'll put him in my little cart
And give him a free ride.

HOP on my back," says the Burro,
"And I'll take you over the hill,

I'll give you a ride
O'er the mountain side."
"Thank you," says Bobby, "I will."

When they got to the top of the mountain,

Said Bobby: "I've had my fill,
Oh, please take me down,
And back into town."
Said the Burro: "Of course I will."

“CLOCK-a-doodle-do,” says the rooster.

“Why, how do you do!” says
Sam.

“I’d like to gobble you for dinner,
For that’s the kind of boy I am.”

“Cut-a-cut-a-cut,” says the rooster,
Which means, “Please let me go!
I’d like to join my family,
They’re worried about me, I know.”

WERE two jolly little coons,
You cannot find our match.
We're just as sweet as sugar

plums,

We never bite or scratch.

We play together all day long,
From care and trouble free.
Our life is just a pleasant song—
Two little coons are we.

NAUGHTY goose, what have you done?
Eaten a pollywog just for fun?

I'd like to know what you would do
If some big man should eat up you?

I feel like scolding very hard,
But, then, what is the use?
You wouldn't understand at all,
You're nothing but a goose.

THIS watermelon's very fine,
Exactly to my taste,
But, oh, I hate to see the seeds
And outside go to waste.

You think it is too large for me!
Its size I do not mind;
When I have eaten all the rest
'Tis you may have the rind.

DOGS for sale! Dogs for sale!
Dandy face and stumpy tail,
Seldom bark and never bite.
Watch so carefully at night.

They will answer to their name,
Playful, kind, and very tame;
They are of the purest breed,
Just the kind of dogs you need.

I LOVE my dolly 'cause she's good,

And also 'cause she's pretty;

I also have a fondness for
My cunning little Kitty.

When my pets together play,

I tell you it is jolly;

I don't know which I love the most,

My Kitty or my Dolly.

Copyright 1911

IN fourteen hundred and nine ty-two,

What did old Columbus do?

He said good-bye to sunny Spain,
And sailed across the raging main.

He found a land as fine as silk,
Flowing with honey and with milk.
Hurrah for Columbus, noble man,
The first and greatest American!

